On Halloween morning, Pip the little witch
woke up with a wonderful idea.

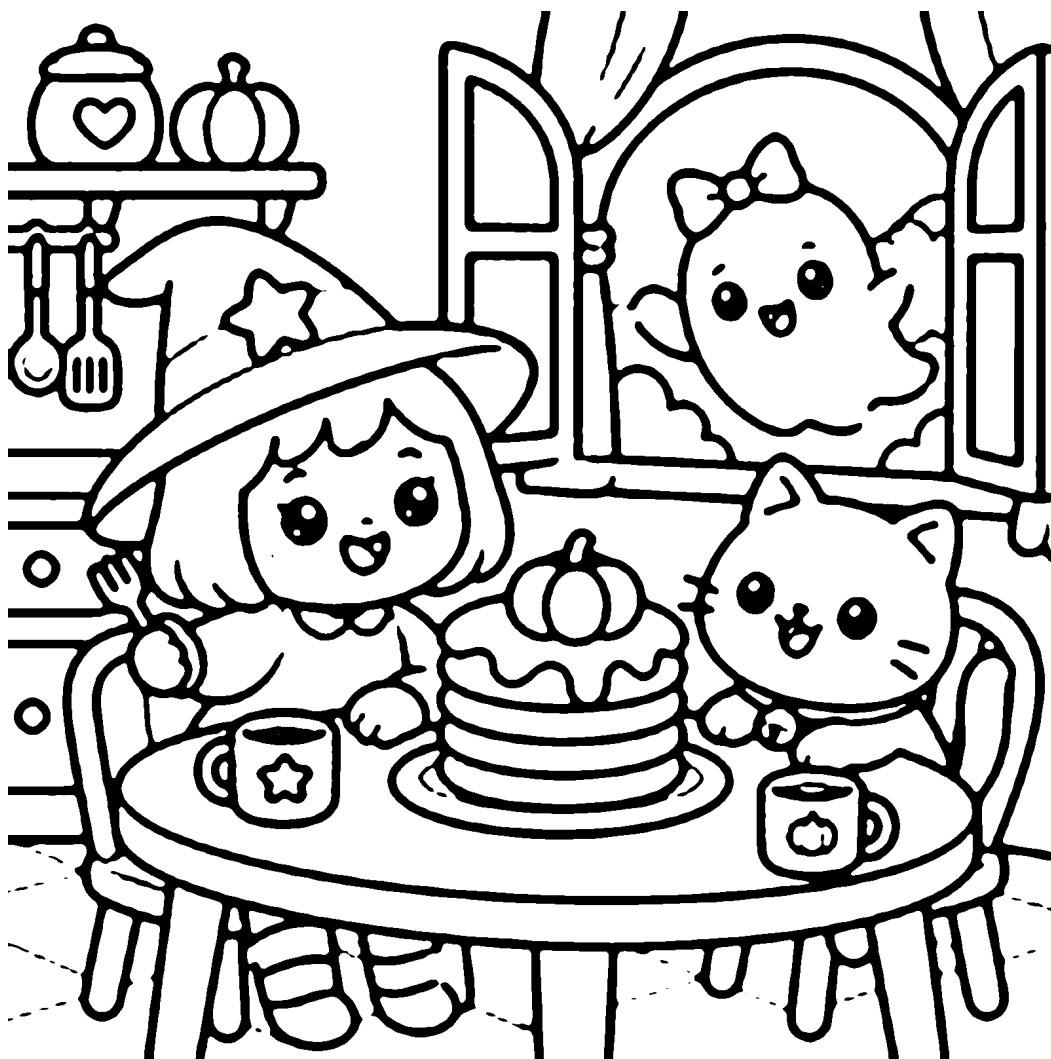

Colour idea

Her best friend Boo floated in for pumpkin pancakes. "Let's have a party tonight!" said Pip.

Colour idea

So Pip wrote invitations for all her friends,
and Biscuit the cat helped (a little).

Colour idea

The first invitation went to Hazel the hedgehog in her cosy mushroom house.

Colour idea

Sprout the scarecrow was so excited he waved his invitation in the air.

Colour idea

Next stop, the pumpkin patch! Every party needs pumpkins.

Colour idea

One pumpkin was VERY big. It took everyone to push it home.

Colour idea

At the potion shop, Ribbit sold them a bottle of fizzy sparkle punch.

Colour idea

Back home, Pip baked her famous pumpkin pie while Biscuit got covered in flour.

Colour idea

Then they carved jack-o'-lanterns with the happiest faces in town.

Colour idea

Pip and Boo hung bat and pumpkin bunting all around the garden.

Colour idea

Costume time! Biscuit was a pumpkin, and Boo was... a ghost, of course.

Colour idea

When the guests arrived, the Pumpkin Moon Party began!

Colour idea

The bats from the old oak tree played a spooky-happy song, and everyone danced.

Colour idea

At last the big round Pumpkin Moon rose over the hill. "It's perfect," whispered Pip.

Colour idea

After the best Halloween ever, Pip, Biscuit and Boo fell fast asleep. Goodnight!
